Reflection for Homework 5

The biggest challenge I encountered in the assignment is to place the elements of my design at the right place and make web prototype as close to my original design as possible. It's very difficult since there are many details in CSS. Besides, I set my folder name as "Assignment 5" at first, and when I validated the html files through the Validator, it causes a lot of errors since it says space is not allowed for the path. Therefore, I had to reedit a lot of details of my code, which caused a lot of trouble.

The "Muddy Paw" is a website for pet devices, so I think its brand identity should be cute and warm. Therefore, I used light bright color and a lot of cute pictures in my design to deliver a feel of relaxation and happiness, and reflect the identity of the brand.
